DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in Germany on January 12, 2004. It is noted, however, that applicant has not filed a certified copy of the 10 2004 002 528.2 application as required by 35 U.S.C. 119(b).

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: 9b (fig. 3). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 9-14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Facit (Sweden Patent No. SE 7502136).

For claim 9, Facit disclose the claimed invention comprising a stator having a surface (reference numeral 16, figure 2); and an armature having a surface (reference numeral 14) and being moved relative to said stator, said stator and said armature defining an air gap there-between (reference numeral 15) at least during any relative movement between said surface of said armature and said surface of said stator, said air gap being disposed at least partially obliquely with respect to a direction of the relative movement (see figure 2).

For claim 10, Facit disclose the surface of said armature and said surface of said stator being aligned parallel to one another (figure 2).

For claim 11, Facit disclose said surface of said stator and said surface of said armature each having surface elements with surface normals that differ from one another (figure 2).

For claim 12, Facit disclose said surface elements having different gradients with respect to the direction of the relative movement of said stator and said armature (see figure 2).

For claim 13, Facit disclose said surface of said armature and said surface of said stator being stepped surfaces having steps, said steps being bounded by interpolated envelope surfaces which are disposed obliquely with respect to the direction of the relative movement (see figure 2).

For claim 14, Facit disclose said steps having first sections on which said surfaces of said stator and said armature would touch one another when said stator and said armature are in a given position with respect to one another (figure 2).

For claim 16, Facit disclose the first sections being surfaces which are disposed substantially at right angles to the direction of the relative movement (see figure 2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Facit as applied to claims 9, 13, and 14 above, and further in view of Franklin (UK Patent Document No.: GB 2077045).

For claim 15, Facit disclose the claimed invention except for the steps having second sections, on which an intermediate space is formed between the surfaces of the stator and the armature when the stator and the armature are in the given position with respect to one another. Franklin discloses a similar configuration for a magnetic actuator where gaps are defined between the step structure (reference numeral 45, see figure 5a). It would have been obvious to include this in the invention for the purpose of preventing undesirable scatter of the magnetic flux.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892.
